Fairmont
WASHINGTON, D.C.
GEORGETOWN

WELCOME TO FAIRMONT WASHINGTON, D.C., GEORGETOWN

Fairmont Washington D.C., Georgetown's culinary philosophy, shaped by Executive Chef Jaime Montes de Oca, celebrates sustainability, community, and uncompromising quality. Every event we cater reflects not only our passion for flavor, but also our responsibility to the environment and to the people who help bring our menus to life.

Sourced Excellence

We proudly partner with farmers and purveyors along the East Coast—from the rich soils of Georgia to the fertile Hudson Valley of New York—to source the freshest seasonal produce. By choosing local, we reduce transportation emissions, support regional economies, and deliver peak flavor to your table.

Sustainable Practices in Action

Our dedication to the planet is more than a promise—it's built into our operations:

- 275 Solar Panels power a significant portion of our hotel's energy, reducing our carbon footprint.
- Rooftop Beehives produce over 20 gallons of honey annually, used in our menus and cocktails while supporting local pollinator health.
- Composting & Waste Reduction programs ensure that food scraps and organic materials are returned to the earth, while recyclables are diverted from landfills.
- Responsible sourcing of meats, seafood, and specialty products emphasizes sustainable farming, fair trade, and minimal environmental impact.

When you choose Fairmont Washington, D.C., you are choosing a partner who shares your values—one plate, one guest, and one event at a time.
